A fresh approach to design thinking for Independent schools

Introducing innovationXdesign

Contemporary schools need to be agile. We need to be able to reassess, adapt our plans and iteratively experiment with ideas, as we navigate the uncertainties and complexities of the world.

We may be faced with the challenge of moving our whole educational experience online in the face of a pandemic, or we may be given a golden opportunity to redesign a learning space to better support collaboration. Whatever the challenge or opportunity, we need to develop our capacity to deeply understand the context, generate great ideas for solutions and trial them quickly and at low cost.

With this mind, Independent Schools Victoria (ISV) has developed a coherent and adaptive approach to innovation. It brings together world class processes, strategies and tools that have been created and adapted to the context of Victorian Independent schools; we call this innovationXdesign.

Join our upcoming program and learn how to create powerful and meaningful innovationXdesign for your school.

- Uncover the fundamentals of innovationXdesign
- Explore how innovationXdesign can be applied in educational settings

From design thinking to innovationXdesign

At Independent Schools Victoria we understand learning. Whether it be for young people in schools, or professional learning for educators and school leaders, we know that deep learning occurs when we take concepts, seek out the connections between them and apply that learning in a meaningful context.

What is design thinking?

From industry to education, IDEO to Stanford d.School, design thinking has come to the fore as a powerful process that enables us to:

- design solutions to challenges
- find new ways forward in strategic planning and
- develop innovative strategies to make the most of opportunities.

What is innovationXdesign?

innovationXdesign evolves best practice approaches from the world of design thinking. It leverages routines that help make thinking visible and uses our growing understanding of building sustainable change in an organisational context.

It has been designed to help educators understand more about innovation practice, and to unpack the necessary mindsets, skillsets and toolsets to explore and find solutions to everyday challenges – both in and out of the classroom. Better still, it has been developed especially for the context of Victorian Independent schools.
